

Dancers perform at inaugural event

The Gallaudet Dancers performed for the Distinguished Ladies Reception, planned by the Presidential Inaugural Committee, on Jan. 19. The event in honor of Mrs. Ronald Reagan and Mrs. George Bush was held at the John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts.

The Inaugural Committee expected about 7,000 people to attend the event. The Gallaudet Dancers joined other performers in entertaining the crowds while Mrs. Reagan and Mrs. Bush spoke in each of the Kennedy Center's four theatres.

The six dancers performing for the Distinguished Ladies Reception were Margaret Bray and Barbara Tubbs from New York, Susan Gills from New Jersey, Stacie Miller from Texas, Sharon Sharp from California and Tina Wix from Tennessee. The Dancers, directed by Peter Wisher, have performed extensively in the United States as well as in France, Israel and Denmark.

Gallaudet's charter was signed by Abraham Lincoln in 1864, and the President of the United States is a patron of Gallaudet.

Inauguration broadcast live in closed captions

The group of people gathered in the MSSD Auditorium last Tuesday, Jan. 20 to watch the televised inauguration of Ronald Reagan as the 40th president of the United States were witness to more than one historic event.

It was not just the inauguration they were watching. It was the inauguration on closed caption television, broadcast live—the first live public affairs event ever to be closed captioned.

Gallaudet College and the National Association of the Deaf were the co-hosts of the MSSD viewing on wide screen television. Gallaudet President C. Merrill, Jr., NAD President Al Pimentel and National Captioning Institute President John Ball were all in attendance and spoke briefly. Doris Caldwell of NCI was also present.

The National Captioning Institute closed captioned the entire inaugural event, including the invocation, presidential and vice presidential oaths of office, the new president's inaugural speech and the benediction. The closed captioned ceremonies were broadcast over ABC-TV and PBS. Although NCI now captions about 30 hours of television programming each week for ABC, NBC, PBS and program producers and syndicators, the regular line-up of spots around Washington for inauguration week, and Gallaudet was one of the places chosen. Much of the filming, which centers around Virginia Beach showing Willard around campus, was done in the Learning Center. The piece was scheduled to air on the "Today Show" last week.

Staff nominees may be campaigning this week in preparation for the College Council elections which will be held Thursday, Jan. 29. The elections will determine the nine staff representatives who will serve on the Council for the next two years.

College Council Bylaws have been revised so that this year, for the first time, staff representatives will be elected by division. The three largest divisions—Academic Affairs, Business Affairs and Pre-College—will each be electing two representatives, one exempt and one non-exempt. In the smaller divisions—Research, Public Services and the President's Office—only one representative will be elected, without regard to exempt or non-exempt status. Staff members will be voting only for the representative(s) from their respective divisions. Ballot boxes will be placed at several locations around campus for the election.

The College Council is an elected group of staff and faculty representatives who advise the president on campus issues during meetings held once a month.

Here are the nominees from each division:

Academic Affairs
non-exempt:

Sharon A. Hayes is an inventory/reservation specialist with Student Life. She taught sign language at Gallaudet part-time from 1971-75, worked at MSSD from 1977-79 and has worked with Student Life since August, 1979.

Diana L. Lamberson is a medical secretary with the Student Health Service. She came to Gallaudet in 1975.

Agnes Muse is an administrative secretary with the Counseling and

New Library Locations

The Gallaudet College Library is still in the process of settling into its new home in the Learning Center. There's still work to be completed in the building and all of us must "grin and bear" the minor inconveniences for the next several months. The Library shares the Learning Center with College Educational Resources (C.E.R.) and a number of classrooms. The staff of the Library is concentrated on the lower and middle levels. To help you find your old Library friends, here are their new locations (U = upper; M = middle; L = lower).

closed captioned programs includes only pre-recorded shows.

According to NCI, the live captioning of the inaugural was possible because NCI received a copy of Reagan's address and other inaugural speeches prior to the event. The speeches were pre-captioned, but a team of NCI caption editors using specially designed equipment called up the captions for live display, timing them to coincide with the spoken remarks. The editors were also able to use a keyboard to generate explanatory captions on-the-spot.

Ball said he hopes that the inaugural is only the first of many public affairs programs to be closed captioned.

Gina Oliva is coordinator of Community Development Programs with the National Academy. She began working at Gallaudet in 1971 and has served as director of the Student Union and staff assistant in the President's Office.

Research

Kathleen Berault is a research technician with the Office of Demographic Studies. She came to Gallaudet in 1979 and has also worked here as a data processor.

Kathy A. Burton is an administrative secretary with Linguistics Research. She began working on campus in 1970 as a clerk-typist for the American Annals of the Deaf and was a secretary in the Library from 1971-76.

President's Office

Patricia A. Foddrell is a secretary with the President's Office. She came to Gallaudet in 1979 and has also worked as a temporary receptionist at KDES.

Vickie Walter is editor of On the Green in the Alumni and Public Relations Office. She came to Gallaudet in 1979 and has also worked in the Development Office with the Alumni House campaign.

Several of the nominees prepared a brief summary statement of their interest in running for the College Council:

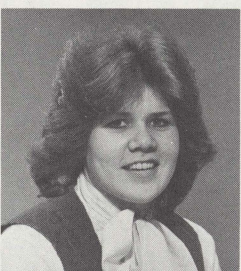

Sharon Hayes, Academic Affairs: "I would like to say that if I am elected, I will do my best to serve all of 'my people.' Allow me to help you get what you deserve from the College."

Gina Oliva, Public Services: "The College Council can and should continue to develop into an integral part of the decision-making process at Gallaudet College. I would enjoy the privilege of fostering that development as the Public Services staff representative."

Kathy Burton, Research: "While my largest area of concern is staff and their welfare, I think my most valuable experience on the Council has come from trying to incorporate staff needs into the even larger needs and abilities of the whole Gallaudet organization. Communication is a wonderful thing and I hope, with or without me, the Council will continue to be as candid and frank as it has during the past two years. Are you listening candidates?"

Weekly program highlight

The National Institute of Neurological and Communicative Disorders and Stroke has announced March 1 as the deadline for the following programs:

Communicative Disorders Research, Neurological Disorders Research, Stroke and Nervous System Trauma Research and Fundamental Neurosciences Research. Research grants range from $5,000 to approximately $900,000, and have subsequent deadlines on July 1 and Nov. 1, 1981. The Communicative Disorders Program supports research on hearing, speech, language and the special senses. Proposals for studies on anatomical, physiological, biochemical, behavioral, pathological and clinical bases for normal or impaired hearing, speech, voice and language are accepted. The Stroke and Trauma Program supports research into disorders of early life, including cerebral palsy, metabolic disorders and autism and learning disorders. More information may be obtained directly from NINCDS by calling 496-9248, or the Office of Sponsored Research.

President's Office Notes

Board of Trustees meets

The Gallaudet Board of Trustees met for its second quarterly meeting of this academic year Jan. 14 and 15. Board activities began with a dinner and educational program on "Early Detection and Intervention for Hearing Impaired Children." Kendall School Dean Michael Deninger chaired the program. Patrick Cox, director of Clinical Services with the Hearing and Speech Center, made a presentation on audiological testing in young children. Janice Welborn, program supervisor for KDES Preschool, gave an overview of the Preschool Program at Kendall using slides to complement her presentation. Kay Meadow of the Research Institute shared a videotape with members of the Board, showing dynamic communication between a deaf mother and her daughter.

Following a luncheon in the College Dining Hall, all the Board members participated in a sign language program planned by the Department of Sign Communication and chaired by Will Madsen.

At the Board meeting, the following actions were taken, upon recommendation of the Board's committees:

Committee on Resources

Dr. Sprinkle, chairman of this committee, recommended and received Board approval on the following:

- The Treasurer's report.
- The tuition, unit fee, room and board charges for Academic Year 1981-82. This reflects a 9% increase over last year and results in a total cost to students of $3,096 (tuition, $786; unit fee, $284; room, $750; board, $1,276).
- A resolution: Tax Sheltered Investments for Faculty and Staff of Gallaudet College. Tax sheltered investments provide employees with more flexibility than tax sheltered annuities, which generally have fixed incomes. They can also provide good short-term investments for those employees not looking for a retirement place.
- The president's Budget Priorities Memorandum which established planning targets for FY 1983, particularly related to serving increased enrollments due to the 1964-65 rubella epidemic.

Committee on Mission

Mr. Rathe, serving as chairman of this committee, recommended and received Board approval for:

- A slate of nominees to serve as members of Gallaudet College's Research Institute Advisory Board. The nominees are Dr. Stephen Quigley, Dr. Richard Schiefelbusch, Dr. Caryl Haskins, Dr. Judith Lanier and Dr. Aram Glorig.
- The Board endorsed the development of a feasibility study of a major center proposal to focus on research related to deafness.

Committee on Trustees

The Committee on Trustees proposed two self-evaluation documents for the Board members: The Board of Trustees Profile and the Trustee Evaluation. Changes in these documents were made and accepted by the members as a viable means of evaluating themselves.

The Board asked that the following members, whose terms of office expire in March, 1981, be approved for continuing Board membership: Mabel R. Cook, Wilson H. Grabill, Bradshaw Mintener and Alexander E. Patterson, Jr. Clyde V. Kiser asked not to be considered because of health reasons.

The Board of Trustees retreat topics were reviewed and members decided to discuss the institutional advancement function and Gallaudet's plan to serve rubella students at its September retreat.

New location

Several people in the President's Office have moved to a new office space. Barbara Harslem, executive assistant to the president; LaVarne Hines, Equal Opportunity officer; Julia Pitt, secretary; Jan Nishimura, acting as office coordinator; and Bill Apple and Bernadette Kappen, doctoral interns, are now located in Hall Memorial Building, Room 117. Their new telephone number is x5075.

Morris Goldman is a professor of Sociology.

Volunteers needed

Sign language volunteers are needed to translate speech for hearing impaired participants at the Montgomery County Women's Fair Monday, Feb. 16. The fair will be held at Walter Johnson High School in Bethesda. Registration begins at 8:30 a.m. Child care will be provided for those who pre-register and parking is available. Interested volunteers are encouraged to contact the Montgomery County Volunteer Bureau at 279-1666 for more information.

Phil Aiello, president of the Alexandria/Potomac Lions Club, presents a $450 scholarship to Gallaudet senior Andrew Lowe on behalf of the Alexandria/Watergate Lions Club at a dinner held on campus Jan. 15. The $450 scholarship presentation is the most recent in a series of scholarship support that Lions Clubs around the country have provided to Gallaudet. In honor of the late Gerald Adler, Gallaudet professor and graduate and past president of the Alexandria/Potomac Lions Club, the Lions of Virginia District 24 established the Gerald Adler Memorial Scholarship Fund at Gallaudet. This is a continuing scholarship fund to help worthy deaf students at College.

Gallaudet's weather policy

Gallaudet's policy on inclement weather states that all faculty and staff employees, including MSSD and KDES, are expected to report to work unless Gallaudet College in its entirety is closed.

Only the president can make the decision to close Gallaudet. In the event that this should happen, announcements will be made on radio and television stations.

The following radio stations will carry announcements regarding the closing of Gallaudet College: WRC/WKYS, WGAY, WUST, WOL, WTOP, WMZQ, WMAL/WROZ, WASH, WAVA, WGMS and WPGC.

Announcements will also be made on these television stations: WRC Channel

4, WJLA Channel 7, WDVM Channel 9 and WTTG Channel 5.

If the College is closed, staff employees will be given administrative leave, Collegiate faculty will arrange for make-up of missed classwork as required and Pre-College faculty will make up class days as scheduled in the school calendar.

In the event that MSSD and KDES only are announced closed, this indicates that they are closed for students, and staff employees are expected to report to work.

Letters

An open letter to Lou Ferrigno

A recent article (Jan. 12) in On the Green stated that you "overcame a hearing and speech problem." What is meant by that phrase? Does it mean that you were successful in participating in the "hearing world" as a hearing person having a "hearing and speech problem?" (I presume you still have the "problem," so that "overcame" does not mean "eliminated.") I would like to suggest that your "successful" participation in the hearing world as, ironically, a non-speaking Hulk, was possible because of your compounding one abnormality (hearing loss) with another (a Mr. Universe physique). Might not your "problem" have overcome you, driving you to compensatory superhuman exertions?

When you release the special message from President Reagan (who shares your "problem," by the way) May 1, I hope you will be mindful of the possible one-sidedness of the public information campaign you will be chairing. Entertain the possibility of chairing a similar campaign for a Better Deafness and Signing Month. There are many Americans who cannot "overcome" deafness, and there are many more who have no desire to even try. You are right—we are all handicapped, but one of the most handicapping conditions is the attitude that a "hearing and speech problem" needs to be "overcome."

Money Talks

Gallaudet employees for FY 1981

by Paul K. Nance

Gallaudet has a total of 1,369 full-time permanent employees requested in the Fiscal 1981 budget (Oct. 1, 1980-Sept. 30, 1981). Although this FY'81 budget has not yet been approved by both houses of Congress and the President of the United States, Congress prior to recessing this past December approved a continuing resolution which extends Gallaudet's spending, at the 1981 level, to June 5.

The number of employees in the 1981 budget is an increase of 85 over those approved for FY '80: 78 at the College level, four at MSSD and three at KDES. However, some of the 78 new positions at the College level are for employees in Business Affairs, Research and College Educational Resources who perform work for MSSD and KDES. These new positions can be filled beginning Feb. 1.

Shown below are the number of full-time permanent personnel who will be authorized if and when the budget request is approved:

Functions	President	Academic Affairs	MSSD/KDES	Research	Public Services	Business Affairs	Total No. of Persons

A "kid's eye view" of Gallaudet

What do visitors to Kendall Green think of Gallaudet? The Visitor's Center in Chapel Hall shows many people around campus for the first time, and some of them write to express their appreciation. The following excerpts are from letters sent by Fox Mill Elementary School 5th graders after they toured Pre-College and the "Look of Sound":

- Thank you for showing us around Gallaudet. Now we know more about your school and about deaf people.
- I like your school especially the giant pinball machine. When I herd (sic) you had a pool and a giant gymnasium I went out of my mind. Soon I wanted to become deaf myself.
- It was fun seeing the words to the music in sign language . . . If I were to become deaf I would want to go to Gallaudet Elementary and when I got older I would want to go to Gallaudet College.

- I think it's nice you can start teaching children when they are so young.
- I thought alot about the depth (sic). They are really smart. Theyre(sic) right that it isnt (sic) a handicap and its (sic) only a matter of bad communication.
- It is a pity there are not more colleges like yours. I would like to see more places like Gallaudet around.
- If Fox Mill was as neat as the elementary school, I would be looking forward to going to school.
- Gallaudet was a lot more than I thought it to be.

Performances are interpreted at Arena Stage

Arena Stage is offering interpreted performances for three plays this season. They include Nikolai Erdman's "The Suicide" on Tuesday, Feb. 3, Jean-Paul Sartre's "Kean" on April 7 and Kurt Vonnegut's "God Bless You, Mr. Rosewater" on May 26. All performances are scheduled for 8 p.m. in the Arena.

To facilitate simultaneous viewing of both the interpreter and the plays, special sections of the theatre have been reserved for deaf and hearing impaired persons. The series will be signed by Janet Bailey.

Deaf and hearing impaired persons may purchase tickets through mail order, by writing Arena Stage, Box Office, 6th & Maine Ave. SW, Washington, DC 20024. Gallaudet is also accepting phone orders for the performances at x5182.

More women deans

In addition to women deans whose names have already appeared in On the Green (Dr. Peet, Dr. Benson, Dr. Riekehof and Dr. Shoemaker), there are two others listed in The Gallaudet Almanac.

They are Charlotte Weiss, who was Dean of Women from 1918 to 1922, and Grace D. Coleman, who was Dean of Women from 1922 to 1928 (Dr. Elizabeth Peet was Dean of Women from 1910 to 1918 and again from 1928 to 1950.)

It may be of interest that Grace Coleman's deaf father was instrumental in the founding of the Florida School for the Deaf and the Blind while she was a junior at Gallaudet College.
